TWO MEN AFTER JOB OF BURGESS OF TOWN OF BROWNSVILLE.

Place Is Without Executive and Applications Are Made to Court for Appointment.

OBJECTS TO VIEWERS REPORT.

Court Petitioned to Revoke License of Yough Brewing Company on Grounds That It Is Not Conducted According to Law.

UNIONTOWN, June 30.—Brownsville is without a Burgess and there are two people who would like to have the job. Edgar T. Brashers was elected Burgess of the town and his term of office will not expire until next spring, but he had removed from the town and there is now no chief executive. Attorney Harry A. Cotton presented the petition of William J. Garred and Gans & Jones presented the petition of James E. Magee for appointment to the office at a session of court held this morning and presided over by Judges Umel and Van Swearingen. The petition was ordered filed.

Chester Glover has filed exceptions to the report of views for the establishment of a private road in Henry Clay township, running from Ashbridge to the National Pike. The petitioner claims that there is already one private road covering practically the same territory and the new road is not necessary.

Attorney Lee B. Brownfield on behalf of Robert L. Miller has petitioned the court for the revocation of the license of the Yough Brewing Company on the grounds that the business is not conducted according to the orders and ruling of the court. The petitioner alleges that John Miller, agent for the company at Fairchance, peddles ice and that he is not careful and does not observe the rule in the sale of beer.

Attorneys Robinson and McKean presented a petition asking that a farm of 100 acres owned by the Struthers Coal & Coke Company, be excluded from the proposed boundary limits of the town of New Salem. The petition was ordered filed.

The bond of the Trotter Water Company to secure Dr. T. N. Eastman of damages in the sum of $1,000 was approved and ordered filed by the court. It was further agreed and noted by the court that in the case of anticipated damages an injunction could be procured or additional bond filed. The company is extending its pipe lines in that territory and Dr. Eastman sought through his attorney to have a $1,000 bond filed. Former Judge J. H. Hopt represented the Water company.

Attorneys D. W. McDowell and T. P. Jones were each allowed $100 by the court for defending Nicola Mondello, who was found guilty of murder in the second degree for the killing of Pasquale Mondello.

Sale of a tract of land by the Dunbar borough School District to the H. C. Fickel Coke Company was confirmed. The tract was a small one and the consideration was $200.

E. Dale Field attorney asked for the appointment of two auditors for Dunbar borough to fill vacancies caused by the removal of two auditors and James Burhaus and C. A. Martin were appointed.

An order of publication was directed in the libel proceedings of Paul N. Styre against her husband, Albert Styre. The defendant cannot be found by the ordinary process.

REACHED COMPROMISE.

Decision Reached in Teachers' Salary of North Union Township.

UNIONTOWN, June 30.—At a meeting of the North Union township School Board last night it was decided to pay the principal T. H. Means a salary of $85 dollars per month for a ten month period and to engage him for two years on that basis. This breaks the deadlock in the board over the question of salary. Some favored $80 for nine months and others wanted him paid $90 per month for a twelve month term. Teachers for the township have not been elected.

QUIET IN MEXICO.

United States Troops to Patrol Border. Apprehension Quelled.

MEXICO CITY, June 30.—(Special.) The positive information from Washington that United States troops are to patrol the Rio Grande border and the lack of definite news regarding serious fighting during the last twelve hours have done much to quiet apprehension among officials and citizens over the threatened general uprising. However, there is anxiety over the showing the revolutionaries may make tomorrow the day set for the revolt.

Mr. Sullivan is chairman of the sub-committee on all resolutions for the conference and the majority of the delegates and their alternatives. Connellsville Council Restrained From Acting in Underground Matter by Court—Return on July 3.

UNIONTOWN, June 30.—A temporary injunction was yesterday granted by the Central District and Printing Company against the Burgess and Town Council of Connellsville by Judge J. Q. Van Swearingen restraining the Borough from entering a certain ordinance compelling the company to place its wires underground. The temporary injunction covers the period during the time pending the determination of an action brought by said company to place its wires underground on North Pittsburg street between Main and Leach streets declared null and void.

The company alleges that the Borough is seeking to compel the execution of the ordinance notwithstanding the pending legislation. The rule up on the Borough officials is made returnable at 10 o'clock Friday July 3.

Freight Wreck on Yough Bridge Decries Traffic and Barely Escapes Crashing on Buildings.

Interest in the diving party was somewhat abated by a little wreck on the Pennsylvania railroad at Third street New Haven which delayed traffic on the Southwest branch for more than two hours. It was then necessary to make a trip of the north and southbound passengers in order to get them through to their destinations.

A long train of empty cars was pulled out of the Passaic River track onto the main line at Third street when the engine of the train which was carrying a carload of coal broke through the track and in coming broke through the roof of the car and came crashing down into the house. The long delay occasioned by the accident was a great deal of trouble to the passengers. The cars were not used in the wreck and the house was not damaged. The cars were not used in the wreck and the house was not damaged.

During the operations of the wrecking crew several hundred people were gathered and gave their views of how the wreck should be done. The wrecking crew was not satisfied and repaired in an hour to day.

UNIONTOWN, June 30.—Clark Peterman was held in connection with the Bellevue Hotel raids was before the court this morning and was allowed to go without sentence being suspended of imposed upon him, but the case is to stand open and he will be subject to sentence in case he should again get into trouble. He has several times appeared at court to have sentence pronounced upon him, but the court has been unable to reach his case for disposition.

This morning he appeared with a well signed and representative petition in which it was set forth that he had been a resident of the borough for 24 years and bore a good character. He has been in the employ of the Bellevue Hotel for many years for 22 years and presented letters showing that he did not operate a regular gambling joint, but that he permitted some of his close friends to gather regularly at his place and play for money. This was shown by the fact that he refused to allow one man to play and the man had made the information against him.

Judge Umel in passing on the case stated that a sentence would not be meted out at this time and that the fines imposed on the other gamblers would be for a time held up, but the event Peterman did not conduct himself properly in the future he might expect to find himself in court where he would be charged the regular price and might even get something worse.

Savage is well known in Connellsville where he was engaged in selling insurance policies. He has been in jail for several months on the charge.

Gordon 10 and 11 year old sons of William Gordon, who were arrested along with their entire family for burglary at 115 Sorg residence in the mountains were this morning sent to Huntingdog Reformatory on charges of incorrigibility. The bride cut into the horse's head and the animal came very near dying from blood poisoning.

He further stated that the lady cursed him when they were tried before Squibb Boyle and told that dignified arm of the law that he could go to a hot climate as they were not afraid of him being able to do anything to them. TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 30, 1908.

UNIONTOWN'S CONTRIBUTION TO HISTORIC EVENTS

Uniontown will have a patriotic celebration of Independence Day such as is seldom witnessed in the county or the country, but which should be a more prominent feature of the day every where under the Stars and Stripes that apell the Union. The Declaration of Independence will be read to the people and the stirring deeds of the Fathers of the Country will be recounted by able orators. The special feature of the occasion, however, and what has brought forth the other portions of the program mentioned, will be the placing of five tablets at different points in the county near Uniontown to mark and commemorate historic persons places and events as follows:

JUMONVILLE GRAVE where was fought the first battle of the seven years war between the British and the French for possession of the Ohio and Mississippi valleys.

FORT NECESSITY the second battle of that war where Washington made his first and only surrender.

BRADDOCK'S GRAVE which marks the second disastrous defeat of the British in their efforts to grasp and hold against the French Fort Duquesne afterwards Fort Pitt now Pittsburgh.

BEESONS ROCKHOUSE the scene around which Uniontown was built.

GADDIS FORT, an outpost of Uniontown, erected by Colonel Thomas Gaddis, third in command under General Crawford in the ill-fated Sandusky expedition.

The fact that these tablets are being provided by the Uniontown Centennial Committee of 1901 suggests the propriety of appropriating at least a portion of the Conneltsville Centennial Celebration Fund to a similar purpose. The drive of Zachariah Connel was, we believe, rescued from long neglect and possible oblivion by a committee appointed for this purpose, but there are other historic places that might with propriety be permanently marked.

There have been many excellent suggestions concerning the disposal of the balance of the Centennial fund and this is only another.

BUSINESS; PRESENT AND FUTURE

The close of June witnesses the settlement of wage scales affecting steel and iron manufacture, the resumption of idle mills, a marked increase in the demand for coke, the firing up of a large number of smokeless ovens and the consequent employment of additional labor. Upon the whole it looks decidedly better in the Conneltsville coke region.

The usual midsummer dullness has settled down on the mercantile trade but the betterment of industrial operations will guarantee better business conditions in the fall and will help to save the summer trade from utter stagnation.

We have insisted, and still insist that the future is full of brighter prospects, and we think it will be even more efficient after the Denver convention shall have decided itself.

THE CHARITY OF THE TAGGERS.

A new but questionable method of working for "sweet charity" has been developed in some communities. It is known as Tagging. It is described as follows:

"The rules of the game as produced by these questionable efforts consist not in giving themselves but in making others give as simple. Fun-loving young folks are supplied with tags and turned loose to invade stores and lie in wait at street corners for the unwary public. If they succeed in placing a tag on you you must pay something to the charity. You have no option as to whether you will go into the game or not. You are pulled in by the newly discovered power of the tag and can only escape by giving up cash.

The game will not be popular, because it violates the chief requirement of that virtue which is said to be among the highest and noblest. In the practice of giving charity we are told to "Let not the right hand know what the left hand doeth." Ostentatious charity is a cheap form of advertising. The charity of the Taggers is akin to robbery. It is forced as well as ostentatious. It is a hold up which lacks even politeness. It is a technical assault upon the citizen and as such may be punished by law.

The only excuse for it is that it will probably bring results where they cannot otherwise be had, but that is not a sufficient excuse. This country is one of the most prosperous under the sun. It usually affords plenty of work for willing hands to do and there is enough charity of the Christlike variety if given intelligent direction to care for the deserving. The Tag of the Taggers is neither intelligent nor decent.

THE POWER OF THE FUTURE

There has been said concerning the power of the future when our coal and oil and gas shall have been exhausted. It is generally recognized that future generations face the possibility of two substitutes already appear and no doubt there will be more to follow if the inventive power of man and his wonderful facilities into the vastness of nature continue to bring forth results in the same ratio that they have in the past.

But both water and alcohol as sources of power will be sensibly diminished unless climatic and soil conditions are preserved and if we eventually come to rely principally or wholly upon them they may be exhausted and every device to preserve the water supplies in their volume and the earth in its fecundity will have to be employed.

It will be a great and arduous work hence the wisdom of improving and conserving such conditions. Now is the time to build for the future as well as for the present.

In the northern part of the State not long ago a boy was requested to write a composition on the Mouth and that is what he wrote. The mouth is the front door to the face. It is the aperture to the cold air of our nostrils. It is the hot bed of the toothache and the bing hole of oratory. The mouth is the fountain of patriotism and the tool chest for people. Without the mouth the politician would be a dumb animal, the statesman a globe and a globe to a dishonest grave. It is the grocer's friend, the dentist's hope. The fact that it has not been done in Conneltsville this year and we have reason to apprehend that it will be done in the future of the observation is indisputable.

SCOTSDALE TOWN COUNCIL MEET.

Adverse Report of Borough Engineer Sustained and New Pipe Ordered.

BOROUGH EMPLOYEES TO BE PAID

They Will Get Their Checks in Time to Be Useful for the Fourth of July if Needed—Monday Evening's Sand Storm a Hummer.

SCOTSDALE, June 30.—The Scottdale Borough Council held a regular adjourned meeting on Monday evening with W. H. Brown, J. F. Berry, A. E. Collins, L. R. Eicher, J. W. Fitzsimmons, C. G. Gorman, T. W. Porter, W. H. Sleight, O. Weaver, P. J. O'Connor and President A. P. Byrne, all the members, present. On account of the regular monthly meeting not coming until July 6, a motion was passed ordering that all the borough employees be paid, and that the street and sewer workers under the Street Commissioner be paid for the month up to and including Monday. This will put the borough people in shape for the Fourth of July, even if nothing is to happen in this burg in the shape of a celebration. The Sewer Committee presented a report that they have completed the Anderson Run sewer, except the 24 inch lines, above Pittsburg street and are now delayed on account of the sewer pipe contracted for with the Loucks Hardware Company failing to have the approval of the Borough Engineer J. B. Hogg, who is now recovering from an operation at the Mercy Hospital, Pittsburg. A contract was entered into between the borough and the Loucks company that the pipe should be subject to the approval of the Borough Engineer. The report was formally refused by the borough after the engineer had disapproved of them. By a vote of nine to three the report was adopted and the opinion of the engineer was sustained. The Borough Engineer J. B. Hogg, who is now recovering from an operation at the Mercy Hospital, Pittsburg. A contract was entered into between the borough and the Loucks company that the pipe should be subject to the approval of the Borough Engineer. The report was formally refused by the borough after the engineer had disapproved of them. By a vote of nine to three the report was adopted and the opinion of the engineer was sustained.

The report of the Fire and Water Committee on a public drinking fountain, fitted with troughs, for man, horse and dog, was held over until the next regular meeting. The Secretary reported that voucher checks for $1,050.53 had been drawn since the last regular meeting for the pay roll of the Anderson Run sewer and these were approved by Council. Angus Loucks identified his willingness to accept the bond of the borough in the sum of $1,500 for indemnifying him from damages in the appropriating of land for the sewer system through his place, and the Borough Attorney, F. B. Falk, and the proper officers were instructed to prepare and execute such a bond in the sum named. Council adjourned at 9:30 o'clock to meet again on next Monday evening.

A Heavy Dust Storm.
The weather man pulled all the dampers open and had a hot fire going on Monday during the afternoon. Monday that caused a showering of dust and a seeking of the soda fountains. Along about 6 o'clock a big wind storm started up and for half an hour there was a prodigious dust storm that made things like what we read about in the deserts. Women who wore ordinary skirts were caught by the wind looked as if they were those sheath gowns that the fashion papers have been making such a fuss about. The dust at times blew so thickly and steadily that the air looked as if filled with a gray storm. The sidewalks were made very dirty and dusty and the people who throw paper in the streets so carelessly had it come back into their doorways like the chickens that come home to roost. With it all the thermometers fell about 15 degrees, which made the air more comfortable for a while.

Arrested for Taking Horse.
A young man named Leighty from near Alverton was brought in by a State cop on Monday morning charged with having taken Joseph Ricks' horse from Chesnut street Friday night. He was left in all day and said last night that no one had brought him anything to eat, the State Police evidently believing that he had likes fasting.

Mills Closed Down.
Signs were posted at the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company's No. 1 plant today that the mills would be closed for an indefinite time. This is the season of the annual shut down of the mills and the plants here need repairs. It is problematical when they will start up again.

James Byrnes Is Out.
His many friends will be glad to know that James Byrnes of Everson is able to be out and around after undergoing an operation some weeks ago. He was able to be up from his home in Everson on Saturday evening for the first time.

Took a Holiday Monday.
The J. W. Rutt planing mill was closed down on Monday while the blisters were being blown out and repairs made about the mill. They will be in operation the rest of the week.

What Firemen Cost.
One of the firemen submits the following from ex-Chief Shoener of Pottsville, published in the Fireman's Herald which would be applicable to any town where there is a department. Mr. Shoener says: "I wonder whether the taxpayers ever figure what part of the cost of the fire department they are required to pay? A good fireman will ruin clothing which he goes for out of his own pocket without a murmur that will amount to more in one year than the taxpayer's share of taxes does in 40 years. Do a little figuring and you will see how little you pay for first-class fire protection. During one of my terms as Chief, after listening to a fellow about the hundred dollars paid the Chief, I handed him a cent, he did feel a little cheap after he found out that it was his share of the hundred dollars for more than 10 years."

TALES ABOUT PRICE'S RELEASE CONFLICT.

One Report Says He Has Been Sold, Another Learned and Another Held.

Conflicting statements are in the air about the releasing of Outfielder "Sunny" Price of the local club to Marion of the Ohio State League. There was a report in circulation that he had been sold to the Ohio club while another one was that he was just loaned. Business Manager Wade Marietta stated this morning that Price was the property of the Connellsville club and that he would remain here. Price played last year with the East Liverpool club of the P. O. M. League and before his arrival in Connellsville played with the defunct Intercity League. He is an infielder but has been used in the outfield here. He is a nice fellow and a pretty thrower, although he is weak with the stick. Price's ten day suspension for attacking Umpire Holland is up today and he may be in the game today if he arrives in town. He has been visiting at his home in New Brighton and is expected in town in time for the game. If the long rest affects Price the same way it did "Chips" Francis, there will be some new boards needed on the fences of Marietta & Sullivan Park. Manager Montgomery is undecided as to which outfielder he will put out of the game this afternoon. "Sunny" Price may be brought in from the outfield and "Bill" Birmingham given a much needed rest. Collier will pitch today for the locals and Arch Osborne for the visitors.

GOING AFTER THEM HARD THIS AFTERNOON.

Locals to Make Strong Attempt to Redeem Themselves After Drubbing of Yesterday.

Charcoal will find a tougher proposition this afternoon than they found yesterday, for the Cokers are going into the game to win and it will take major league ball to defeat them. Manager Montgomery's selection for box work will probably be Collier while Manager Arch Osborne of the Cokers may be on the mound for the Rats. Sweeney will probably do the backstop work for the locals. Decker flew the coop yesterday and Francis will be in center field. He played a fine game in that position yesterday, taking everything that came his way. Tiffany has fully recovered from his sickness and will be at first base. It has not been fully decided by the directors of the local club whether there will be a double header on Thursday and Friday. The locals have three postponed games with the Drummers and one double header will likely be played on Thursday.

ITALIANS THROW STONES AT GIRLS.

They Are Arrested and Fined at Mt. Pleasant as Are Also Sunday Noisemakers.

MT. PLEASANT, June 30.—Burgess Crosby held a short session of the court in the borough last night. John Blahut and A. J. Rodgers, who acquired too much of the red water on Sunday afternoon and afterwards became rather loud and boisterous near Mrs. Gumm's, a well known character in the West End, were before his honor on a charge of disorderly conduct brought by Policeman Keller, who made the arrests. Both men plead guilty and in default of $5 fine will work on the streets for the next two days. Vincent Polidino, Joe Moretta and Lewis Caselo, three East End Italian youths, passed insulting remarks and threw stones at two young girls near the Willows, just east of town, on Sunday afternoon. The frightened girls notified Policeman Keller, who arrested all three of the offenders, and at the hearing they pleaded guilty and were given a fine of $4 each with the exception of Caselo, who paid an additional dollar for making threats at the officer who made the arrests. They all paid their fines, which swelled the borough treasury $13.

WINS PALS MONEY AND PAYS WAY OUT OF JAIL.

Result of Crap Game in Prison Favorable to "Buffalo Bill" and He Secures Liberty.

SOMERSET, Pa., June 30.—On Saturday evening three well known characters were arrested on complaint of sundry citizens of West street, who stated that an exciting game of crap the three persons affected mentioned and a quantity of beer seriously disturbed their peace of mind. The three men were placed in the borough jail and there left to repent of their evil ways and to become sober. Time passed slowly in the gloomy depths of the prison, and to while away the hours one of the crap shooters, who travels under the alias of "Buffalo Bill," produced the crap dice from his pocket and induced the others to resume the game.

In the morning the three malefactors were taken before Burgess William H. Welfley and there a fine was imposed. "Buffalo Bill" dug into his pocket and produced pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters. The other two men caught their breath and showed that they had no money. "Buffalo Bill" solemnly counted out his money. He searched his pockets anxiously and counted out a few nickels to the help of change. He had just sufficient money to pay his fine and was released. As he developed that fortune smiled on "Bill" during the game of crap in the local jail and that he removed all the coin of the realm of which his companions were possessed. His companions will be forced to pay their fines or sweep the streets.

GUARDING TRACKS AGAINST TROLLEYS.

B. & O. Have Engine, Cars and Officers at Meyersdale to Prevent Line Being Crossed.

MEYERSDALE, June 30.—In order to prevent the Pennsylvania and Maryland Street Railway Company from putting in their crossing on the Salisbury branch, just west of this town, the B. & O. authorities have stationed a train with several cars and an engine, and leave a space with a dozen men and a car to guard the tracks. This is not all. An extra precaution, a new have also stationed Captain Horn with a dozen or more engine eyes the B. & O. for the purpose of placing any one under arrest for trespass who attempts to interfere with their train at that point.

Meanwhile, the trolley people, indifferent to the company's proposition at that point, are going merrily on with their track laying on the opposite side of the tracks of the B. & O. The officials of the trolley company have been sending out party cars to guard the crossing and to prevent the crossing of the tracks. The train cars have not yet been played. Meanwhile, the trolley people are maintaining an expensive guard for no consequence.

THE COME AND SEE SIGN

This sign is permanently attached to the front of the main building of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass. What Does This Sign Mean? It means that public inspection of the Laboratory and methods of doing business is honestly desired. It means that there is nothing about the business which is not "open and above-board." It means that a permanent invitation is extended to anyone to come and verify any and all statements made in the advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Is it a purely vegetable compound made from roots and herbs—without drugs? Come and See. Do the women of America continually use as much of it as we are told? Come and See. Was there ever such a person as Lydia E. Pinkham, and is there any woman now to whom sick women are asked to write? Come and See. Is the vast private correspondence with sick women conducted by women only, and are the letters kept strictly confidential? Come and See. Have they really got letters from over one million, one hundred thousand women correspondents? Come and See. Have they proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands of these women? Come and See. This advertisement is only for doubters. The great army of women who know from their own personal experience that no medicine in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female ills will not go on using and being benefited by it; but the poor doubting, suffering woman must, for her own sake, be taught confidence, for she also might just as well regain her health.

Chapter XIV

AN ENFORCED INTERVIEW.

MONSIEUR CHAUVENET
NET!"

Armitage uncovered smilingly. Chauvenet stared mutely as Armitage paused with his back to the Claiborne gate. Chauvenet was dressed with his usual care and wore the latest carnation in the lapel of his top coat. He struck the ground with his stick, his look of astonishment passed, and he smiled pleasantly as he returned Armitage's salutation.

"My dear Armitage!" he murmured. "I didn't go to Mexico, after all, my good Chauvenet. The place is full of fever. I couldn't take the risk."

"He is indeed a wise man who safeguards his health," replied the other. "You are quite right. And when one has had many narrow escapes one may be excused for exercising rather particular care. Do you not find it so?" mocked Armitage.

"My dear fellow, my life is one long fight against ennui. Danger, excitement, the hazard of my precious life—such pleasures of late have been denied me."

"But you are young and of intrepid spirit, monsieur. It would be quite surprising if some perilsous adventure did not overtake you before the silver snow in your hair."

"Ah! I assure you the speculation interests me, but I must trouble you to let me pass," continued Chauvenet in the same tone. "I shall quite forget that I set out to make a call if I linger longer in your charming society."

"But I must ask you to delay your call for the present. I shall greatly value your company down the road a little way. It is a trifling favor, and you are a man of delightful courtesy."

Chauvenet twisted his mustache reflectively. His mind had been busy seeking means of turning the meeting to his own advantage. He had met Armitage at quite the least imaginable spot in the world for an encounter between them, and he was not a man who enjoyed surprises. He had taken care that the exposure of Armitage at Washington should be telegraphed to every part of the country and put upon the cables. He had expected Armitage to leave Washington, but he had no idea that he would turn up at a fashionable resort greatly affected by Washingtonians and only a comparatively short distance from the capital.

He was at a great disadvantage in not knowing Armitage's plans and strategy. His own mind was curiously cunning, and his reasoning powers traversed oblique lines. He was thus prone to impute similar mental processes to other people. Simplicity and directness he did not understand at all. He had underrated Armitage's courage and daring; he wished to make no further mistakes, and he walked back toward the hotel with apparent good grace.

Armitage spoke now in a very different key, and the change displeased Chauvenet, for he much affected ironical raillery, and his companion's sterner tones disconcerted him.

"I take this opportunity to give you a solemn warning, M. Jules Chauvenet, alias Rambard, and thereby render you a greater service than you know. You have undertaken a deep and dangerous game. It is spectacular, it is picturesque, it is immense! It is so stupendous that the taking of a few lives seems trifling in comparison with the end to be obtained. Now look about you for a moment, M. Jules Chauvenet! In this mountain air a man may grow very sane and see matters very clearly."

London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna, Rome are a long way off, and the things they stand for lose their splendor when a man sits among these American mountains and reflects upon the pettiness and sordidness of man's common ambition."

"Is this exordium or peroration, my dear fellow?"

"It is both," replied Armitage succinctly, and Chauvenet was sorry he had spoken, for Armitage stopped short in a lonely stretch of the highway and continued in a disagreeable, incisive tone:

"I ran away from Washington after you told that story at Claiborne's supper table, not because I was afraid of your accusation, but because I wanted to watch your plans a little in security. The only man who could have helped me immediately was Senator Sanderson, and I knew that he was in Montana."

Chauvenet smiled with a return of assurance. "Of course. The hour was chosen well."

"More wisely, in fact, than your choice of that big assassin of yours life's a clumsy fellow, with more brains than I had. I had no trouble in shaking him off in Boston, where you probably advised him I should be taking the Montreal express."

Chauvenet blinked. This was precisely what he had told Zmal to expect. He smugly felt, with more than a touch of wonder, just how he was to escape from Armitage. He had gone to Storm Springs to be near Shirley Claiborne, and he deeply resented having business thrust upon him.

"He is a wise man who wields the Chauvenet's gloved fingers caught at his mustache.

"That is almost insulting, M. Armitage. A distinguished statesman is killed, therefore I must have murdered him. You forget that there's a difference between us. You are an unknown adventurer carried on the books of the police as a fugitive from justice, and I can walk to the hotel and get twenty reputable men to vouch for me. I advise you to be careful not to mention my name in connection with Count von Stroebel's death."

He had begun jauntily, but closed in heat, and when he finished Armitage nodded to signify that he understood perfectly.

"A few more deaths, and you would be in a position to command tribute from a high quarter, monsieur."

"Your mind seems to turn upon assassination. If you know so much about Stroebel's death it's unfortunate that you left Europe at a time when you might have rendered important aid in finding the murderer. It's a bit suspicious, M. Armitage! It is known at the Hotel Monte Rosa in Geneva that you were the last person to enjoy an interview with the venerable statesman. You see I am not dull, M. Armitage!"

"You are not dull, Chauvenet. You are only short-sighted. The same will nesses know that John Armitage was at the Hotel Monte Rosa for twenty-four hours following the count's departure. Meanwhile, where were you, Jules Chauvenet?"

Chauvenet's hand again went to his face, which whitened, though he sought refuge again in blipant irony. "To be sure! Where was I, I confess? Undoubtedly you know all my movements, so that it is unnecessary for me to have my opinions in the matter."

"Quite so! Your opinions are not of great value to me, for I employed agents to trace every move you made during the month in which Count von Stroebel was stabbed to death in his railway carriage. It is so interesting that I have committed the record to memory. If the story would interest you—"

The hand that again sought the slight mustache trembled slightly, but Chauvenet smiled.

"You should write the memoirs of your very interesting career, my dear fellow. I cannot listen to your babble longer."

"I do not intend that you shall, but your whereabouts on Monday night, March 15, of this year may need explanation, M. Chauvenet."

"If it should, I shall call upon you, my dear fellow!"

"Save yourself the trouble! The bureau I employed to investigate the matter could assist you much better. All I could offer would be copies of its

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

Doctors always agree upon two things—consultation fees and the immediate need they have for the money.

A thing that is too self evident often deceives people into thinking that it is extremely difficult and complex.

Marriage is a great developer of a taste for the plain, ordinary things of life and of the inexpensive manner of living.

The more mad a man is in love a man is in his youth the more completely he forgets it in his prime.

It doesn't hurt him very much. Or any, as a rule. The fever lasts a day or two. And then his blood gets cool. But while he's under the spell. Perhaps a day or so. He rather takes the thing to heart And really thinks he'll go.

Armitage pointed down the road with his riding crop.

So acute an intellect! You are too wise to throw away your life futilely."

"You have been most generous in sparing it thus far!" laughed Armitage, and Chauvenet took instant advantage of his change of humor.

"Perhaps—perhaps—I have pledged my faith in the wrong quarter, monsieur. If I may say it, we are both fairly clever men, together we could achieve much."

"So you would sell out, would you?" laughed Chauvenet. "You miserable little thing! I should like to join forces with you! Your knack of getting the poison into the right cup every time would be a valuable asset! But we are not made for each other in this world. In the next—who knows?"

"As you will, I dare say you would be an excellent partner."

"All of that, Chauvenet! You do best to stick to your present employer. He needs you and the like of you—I don't! But remember—if there's a sudden death in Vienna in a certain high quarter you will not live to reap the benefits. Charles Louis rules Austria. Hungary. His cousin, your friend Francis, is not of kindly proportions. I advise you to enable the amiable Duke of a dissolution of partnership. It is now too late for you to call at Judge Claiborne's, and I shall trouble you to wait on down the road for ten minutes. If you look round or follow me, I shall certainly turn you into something less attractive than a pillar of salt. You do well to consult your wits. Forward!"

Armitage pointed down the road with his riding crop. As Chauvenet waited slowly away, swinging his stick, Armitage turned toward the hotel. The shadow of night was falling on the hills, and it was quite dark when he found Oscar and the horses. He mounted, and they rode through

TOO MANY ERRORS AND NOT ENOUGH HITS STORY OF DEFEAT.

By hard hitting, good fielding and strikeout pitching on the part of Mack, who is none other than the famous "Burr" McCleary, the State College football player, Charleroi hung it onto the Cokers yesterday afternoon by the score of 6 to 1. Connellsville started off like a winner and stood a good show to win, but the Rats found Wallace at opportune times and batted him all over the lot, while the Cokers could do nothing with the new Charleroi pitching phenom.

The Cherus gave Mack errorless support while the locals had seven juicy errors to their credit. Connellsville found Mack for four scattered bingles while the Rovers smashed out 12 hits, two of them being triples. Two Charleroi men batted at 1,000 per cent. Heinz, the ex-Beaver Falls first baseman, and Houser, the third baseman, each had four hits out of four times up. All of Heinz's smashes were clean while Houser had two scratches to his credit.

But a ghost of a crowd attended the game. It is estimated at about 300. Many left before the contest was over. Both teams started out in good form. Connellsville started the scoring in the first inning. With two on the bench Roy Ellum worked Mack for a base on balls. Heinz' single put him on second and Bill Birmingham's timely hit to left brought in the Cokers' only run of the game.

It looked like Connellsville's game, for the Cherus went out in regular order for four innings. The ballroom went up and the game of in the fifth act, when the Rats scored three. Heinz sneaked one to right for a base and took second when Jacobson allowed the ball to go through his fingers. Duley planted a well placed sacrifice and Houser smashed one to left, scoring the first baseman. Urben made it two down by flying out to Jacobson and Mack drove one to right, which scored Houser. Mack stole second and took third on Nally's scratch hit. Nally stole second and Layton's throw to that bag went wild and Mack scored.

The clutch inning added another run to the Cherus' collection. With O'Hara down Robb took one in the back and took second when Wallace threw the ball away. "Bingie" Heinz added another hit to his collection by scoring Robb with his hit to right. Still another one was added by Charleroi bunch in the next chapter. Houser lead off with a three-sack hit to the left field fence. Urben popped one to "Sunny" Price, who misjudged the ball and then made a one-handed stab at it and muffed it. Houser scored. Houser again started trouble in the ninth, leading off with a scratch single. Urben bunted and beat it out. Nally and Cogrove flew out to Jacobson and two errors in succession by Montgomery and Ellum enabled Houser to cross the pan with the sixth and last run of the game.

Charleroi did some fast fielding throughout the game, Urben being the bright star. Ellum and the rest of the Connellsville infield took a day off. Birmingham, Tiffany and Francis were the only Connellsville players who had a clean fielding record.

Baseball Babbie.

Closer to the cellar.
Connellsville can yet take two out of three.

Cheer up. They won the first one the last time, too.
Scottdale trimmed the Ontons. Was it a mistake?

It is reported that the Ontons are going to let Scottdale have this week's series in order to shove Connellsville to the bottom if they lose with Charleroi.

Charleroi will appear for the first time on the Connellsville grounds on Thursday. Ferd Deura has got a good team and will make the Cokers go some to win.

Mack, the twilder, who pitched such good ball yesterday for the Rats, is none other than McCleary, the star pitcher and foot ball player for State College. Robb, their left fielder, is reported to be Coulson, the State College football player. He played with the Rats last year in the P. O. M. League.

The Uniontown Herald in this morning's issue has Montgomery chided up with four errors. Montgomery had but one.

Tiffany, Francis and Birmingham were the only Connellsville players to escape the error hoodoo.

It was Tiffany's first game since the Uniontown series and he made good, making several good catches at first.

Houser and Heinz made a record, each making four hits out of four times at bat. Almost equal to Pat Moran's record of last year of four out of five times up against Fairmont.

McClary made his initial appearance here. His "Strike" rule and "Strike Free" amused the fans. His decisions were a little off but no far voted neither side, as President Croninger doesn't care whether Charleroi or Connellsville is ahead at the end of the race, and neither of them are in striking distance of first place.

A Wave of Blue From Ocean to Ocean.

Never Were Blue Serge Suits So Popular With Men as Now

Mid-Summer heat has again placed blue serge suits on the high road of popularity. No fabric is so well adapted to hot weather conditions as serge. It is so woven as to present an attractive appearance and still give ready access to the outer air. The serges we offer are guaranteed by us to remain the dark, rich, blue that appeals to you at the time of purchase. The tailoring of these garments is of the highest order, insuring permanency of shape (a quality difficult to secure in serge). No matter where you may elect to spend the fourth, you'll find blue serge the dominant feature of men's apparel. The suits here advertised will compare most favorably with any you will see.

Everyone of these suits are guaranteed true blue and will not fade. Every size is here, cut in models most approved by carefully dressed men. The coats drape in long flowing lines, the trousers are ample through the hips, narrowing to 14 inches at the instep. Fitted with belt straps. We'll be right busy in this department this week, so an early purchase is earnestly advised that alterations may be completed in time.

The Burgundy Shade in Footwear.

As is usual, it is shown in our stores first. It is the newest shade in shoe leather—a deep rich shade of red. It will be the leading shade in fall footwear. This is not a prophecy, but a statement based upon absolute knowledge of facts. We are not showing this shade in any but high cut models, as they are made up in advance fall styles only. The women's styles are shown in the new wave top. Even though you do not care to purchase just now, it is interesting to see the very newest of footwear. The models shown are priced at $4.00 and are superb examples of the shoemakers' art.

A New Leather Belt for Women.

These belts are made entirely in shades of tan. These belts are narrow in design, made especially for mid-summer wear, fitted with neat metal buckles, perfect cut insuring absolute fit. The shape of these belts graduates from about 1 1/2 inches in the back to an inch at the ends. They are faultlessly made and finished giving them the appearance of a belt much higher in price. You'll find these displayed in the main aisle at 50c.

Two Groups of Lingerie Dresses at Lowered Prices

Thin, summery dresses, handsomely made of sheer, fine lawn, admirably fitted for the many forms of outing that will be indulged in next Saturday. We've priced them with the intention of complete clearance. Everyone of them are of the present season's designing, made up in one and two-piece models, handsomely trimmed and nicely tailored. You'll find them far above the ordinary dresses at like prices. They would bear a much more enthusiastic description than is here given, but we prefer to understate and surprise you. You will find these shown on the second floor.

LINGERIE DRESSES

Regularly $8

These are made of sheer white lawn, prettily trimmed with val lace. They are made in two piece styles (waist and skirt); all sizes are here to begin with, but the little sale price will make rapid work of the selling. These suits are variously designed and trimmed in conformity with the newest fashions and form a most desirable bargain value at this radically lowered price.

$5.50

Sheer Shirt Waists

$1.95

Regular value $2.50.

A pre-inventory offering of $2.50 white lingerie shirt waists taken from our own magnificent stocks and priced at $1.95. All of them have short sleeves and are trimmed with embroidery, val lace and medallions. We do the biggest shirt waist business in this section. We do it with our regular values, but here is an example of limited underpricing ending at a most opportune time.

LINGERIE DRESSES

Regularly $5

These are fashioned from figured lawns (black figures on white grounds). They are made in Princess styles, prettily trimmed with val lace. Not as suitable for a dress occasion as the other group, but decidedly suitable for picnicking, morning and street wear. It is surprising how good a dress you can secure at so little a price. A superb $5.00 value at $3.75. Will cause many women to visit our suit section this week.

$3.75
